FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Neighboring states of Connecticut, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania now meet the criteria for travel advisory plus two other states have been added to the Travel Advisory for COVID-19 for a total 43 of states and territories covering more than half the nation.

Based upon Governor Cuomo's update on October 20, 2020, five states have been added (Arizona, Maryland, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania) to the list for a total 43 of states and territories. Neighboring states of Connecticut, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania now meet the criteria for travel advisory; however, given the interconnected nature of the region and mode of transport between us, a quarantine on these states is not practically viable. That said, New York State highly discourages, to the extent practical, non-essential travel to and from these states while they meet the travel advisory criteria. The following states and territories still meet the criteria for required quarantine and *non-essential travel to and from these states is highly discouraged while they meet the travel advisory criteria:

- Alabama
- Alaska
- Arizona
- Arkansas
- Connecticut*
- Colorado
- Delaware
- Florida
- Georgia
- Guam
- Idaho
- Illinois
- Indiana
- Iowa
- Kansas
- Kentucky
- Louisiana
- Maryland
- Michigan
- Minnesota
- Mississippi
- Missouri
- Montana
- Nebraska
- New Jersey*
- New Mexico
- North Carolina
- North Dakota
- Nevada
- Ohio
- Oklahoma
- Pennsylvania*
- Puerto Rico
- Rhode Island
- South Carolina
- South Dakota
- Tennessee
- Texas
- Utah
- Virginia
- West Virginia
- Wisconsin
- Wyoming

This is based upon a seven-day rolling average, of positive tests in excess of 10 percent, or number of positive cases exceeding 10 per 100,000 residents. If you have traveled from within one of the designated states with significant community spread as defined by the metrics above, you must quarantine when you enter New York for 14 days from the last travel within such designated state. The requirements of the travel advisory do not apply to any individual passing through designated states for a limited duration (i.e., less than 24 hours) through the course of travel. Examples of such brief passage include but are not limited to: stopping at rest stops for vehicles, buses, and/or trains; or lay-overs for air travel, bus travel, or train travel. Airports being monitored for travelers from these states and territories include: Rochester, Niagara Falls, Elmira, Ogdensburg, Plattsburgh, JFK, LaGuardia, Albany, Hancock (Syracuse), Stewart (Newburgh) and Buffalo-Niagara and MacArthur (Islip). The
